City Council Approves 7.4 Million Budget; Reduces Tax Rate by 2c

by Mary Lou Williamson

The City Council, at a special session on June 9, approved a budget for fiscal year 1987-88 for $7.4 million, as compared with last year's $6.6 — an increase of 12 percent. Council reduced the tax rate by two cents to $1.17 per $100 of assessed valuation. Total revenues are expected to bring in $6.7 million. The remaining $700,000 needed to balance the budget will come from surplus — funds not spent in current and prior years.

Passage of the city manager's budget, essentially intact, occurred swiftly as the tentative decisions of the final work session held. All votes were unanimous. A couple of representatives from the Police Department, one from the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board and one from the press were the entire audience. The city charter requires approval of the budget and setting the tax rate by June 10.

General Fund

The general fund accounts for most operations of the city government. The cost of living increase for all classified personnel was increased from two to three percent, as recommended by the city manager. Ten and one-half full-time classified positions and three part-time positions were added in various city departments. A third green trailer (two are in use by the Police Department) will be added for the Public Works, but a fourth, thought to be needed for administrative office space, was given up. Space in the municipal building will be very tight until the new police station opens, in late 1988. Refuse collection charges will increase 12 percent. The dial-a-ride service will be expanded. The city manager's salary was also increased.

General Government—$956,300

Two significant positions were added: an administrative assistant in the city manager's office and an engineer to work on street permitting and construction, plus helping the city's building program. The managers office will also gain a part-time office assistant. Remaining 50th anniversary events, chiefly the anniversary weekend in October, are budgeted at $20,500.

CARES—$174,700

With no new personnel or significent changes, the social services budget shows little change over last year. The program continues to be funded in part by the State (87,000) and a county grant of $10,000. The city pays for the remainder, just under half.

Police—$2,402,000

Four new, non-sworn positions to be added next year will aid the Police Department's plans to computerize its paperwork and handle the increasing load of calls for service. A third lieutenant, to be drawn from the present rank of sergeant, will allow for reorganizing the department into three sections. The department maintains 42 sworn officers and will have 15 full-time and two part-time support staff. Five squad cars will be replaced. The fleet remains at 30 vehicles. Major goals for the coming year include work associated with the construction of a new police station, increase training for officers, and establishing a narcotics enforcement unit. Council rejected the department's request to keep two of the five cars that will be retired in order to increase the fleet. The department has been gradually implementing a take-home policy, first with some senior officers who may be called in an emergency.

Public Works—$1,413,000

Three new positions and some reorganization of waste collection services are reflected in this budget. The city is examining whether to discontinue the special Wednesday collection of paper, which has been very damaging to the load-packer trucks. Allied with this change may come a change in the way special trash is picked up. Two new positions probably will supplement the special trash crew when these changes are determined. The budget provides for eight temporary positions from April through October to assist with seasonal demands. Hiring college and high school students for the summer months, which has become increasingly difficult, would be discontinued.

The intra-city dial-a-ride service will be expanded to six days a week with a full-time public works person (the third new position) as driver. The cost will also increase to $1.00 for children and senior citizens and $1.50 for others. A trailer ($5,000) will give needed office space. Total staffing includes 44 full-time and two part-time positions plus the six-month temporary positions.

Recreation and Parks—$1,294,000

One and a half new positions

Council Approves Indoor Pool And $2 Million for Parkland

by Mavis Fletcher

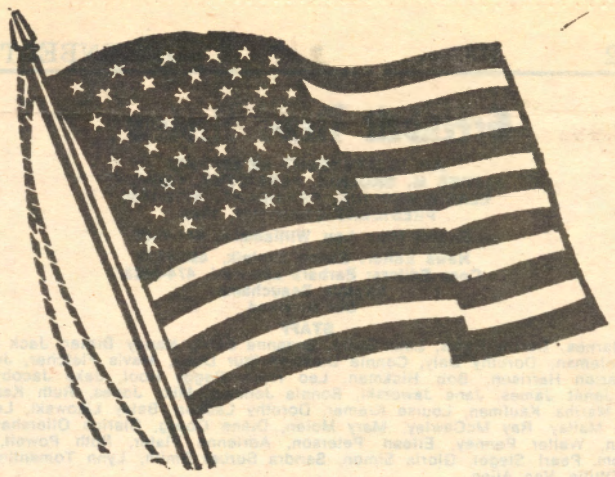

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, building on proposals put forward by Mayor pro tem Thomas White and Councilmember Edward Putens, came up with a compromise on bond issue priorities which left the citizens at Monday night's meeting applauding. The compromise proposal will permit work on the indoor pool and other construction projects to proceed while preserving the full $2 million promised for parkland acquisition and development.

Council adopted the priorities and funding sources (see box) by unanimous vote. The proposal, as Putens introduced it at the beginning of the June 29 special city council meeting, had only $750,000 allocated for parkland acquisition. This is the figure which emerged from the strategic planning groups' work on the bond priorities and the figure which had raised the fears of parkland advocates who saw funds for parks being cut far below the amount promised in the bond issue information.

Weidenfeld proposed restoring the parks allocation to the full $2 million and financing the shortfall (about $1,015,000) by a method suggested in a paper which White submitted at the June 11 work session. Under White's plan, the yield from a five-cent city tax levy would be dedicated to repay money borrowed to make up the deficits in the projects which were supposed to be paid for by the bond issue. City Manager James Giese estimated that the five-cent levy over 10 years would yield about $1,500,000, more than would be required to bring the parks allocation up to $2 million which was expected to be available for parks.

Bond Issue Priorities

Project	Allocation	Funding Sources
Police Station	$1,875,000	Bonds
Pools	3,175,000	Bonds
Parks	1,765,000	Bonds (750,000) + 5c tax levy (1,015,000)
Schrom Hills Park	235,000	Bonds (200,000) + Open Space Funds (35,000)
North End School	400,000	North End School reserves + $156,500 from other building reserves
Public Works Addition	500,000	$145,100 from building reserves on hand + future reserves thru FY 89/90

Greenbelt's Fiftieth "Fourth" Should Be the Most Glorious

by Dorrie Bates

The Fourth of July, that all-American memory-maker and patriotic extravaganza is upon us. Greenbelt has always had a whizz-bang celebration. This year promises to be no exception. The weekend schedule holds something for everyone, with activities ranging from athletic contests to musical gatherings, most accompanied by families, friends and lots of food.

The Greenbelt Recreation Department has planned several events which will run throughout the weekend. The Firecracker Tournament, part of the Men's "C" Softball League play, will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Braden Field. The Greenbelt Tennis Association is sponsoring an Independence Day Tennis Tournament at the Braden Field Courts. For cooling off, the swimming pool will be open regular hours except Saturday, when it will open at 1 p.m. because of a morning swim meet with Green Acres. Both the Greenbelt and Springhill Lake Recreation Centers will be open at the usual time.

On Saturday, a great deal will be happening at "Buddy" Attick Park by Greenbelt Lake, much of it musical. Ritchie Reunion, a bluegrass band, will play from 1 to 2 p.m. and then again from 3 to 4 p.m. Music from the Big Band era will sound from 4 to 6 p.m., provided by Trux Baldwin and the Starlight Orchestra. (This 18-piece band is also scheduled to play for the Greenbelt 50th Anniversary Dinner Dance in October.)

At 7 p.m., the Greenbelt Concert Band, under the direction of John Del Homme will present its annual Fourth of July Concert. Always a crowd-pleasing potpourri of classical hits and family favorites, the concert culminates in Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture, which signals the beginning of the evening spectacular—the fireworks.

Again this year, the pyrotechnic grandeur is provided by the Zambelli Company, known throughout the world for its breath-taking combinations and dazzling displays. In addition to the aerial artistry, there will be several set pieces including a special "Greenbelt is 50" piece scheduled for the grand finale. The fireworks will be set off by four specifically trained and certified personnel, headed by pyrotechnician Kenneth Hall. The show is expected to last about an hour.

Parking will be restricted at the lake parking lot. Lake park permits will not be honored, although special consideration will be given to handicapped or elderly citizens on a case by case basis. Parking will not be permitted on the south side of Crescent Road from Kenilworth Aenue past Lastner Lane, or at the Greenhill or Lakecrest Drive entrances to the park. There will be an area between the main park entrance and Lastner Lane for discharging passengers. Walking is encouraged.

Other special events happening on Saturday include an open Family Picnic at the Greenbelt American Legion and a special appearance of the W-Lite hot air balloon accompanied by radio personalities Dave Adler and Walt Starling. (See the Calendar of Events for a complete listing of all the weekend events.)

The Police Department wishes to remind all those attending the festivities that under Maryland law, all types of fireworks are illegal, including sparklers, cherry bombs, and firecreckers. No alcoholic beverages are allowed in the lake area.

For more information, call the Greenbelt Recreation Department at 474-6878. In case of rain, the fireworks will be held the next clear night.

July 4th at SHL

Springhill Lake is hosting a grand celebration this 4th of July, outside The Fountain Lodge. The festivities begin at 11 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. There will be entertainment all day long including mimes, jugglers, clowns, caricatures, and live music.

In addition, arts and crafts vendors will display and sell their wares.

The cuisine of the day will be typically American. Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, and their supportive parents will sell hot dogs, sodas, beer, sno-cones, and ice cream. There will also be pizza for sale.

This celebration is for people of all ages. Children can participate in cake walks and sack races while adults play volleyball or enter the pie eating contest.

To end this perfect day, be sure to watch the fireworks at Greenbelt Lake which are visible from most of Springhill Lake.

Well-Done!

Congratulations to the city council! We knew they could do it! When the special city council meeting on bond issue priorities ended late on June 29, the council had come up with a compromise between supporters of the indoor pool and the parkland advocates. The compromise restores $2,000,000 for the parks category by borrowing against the yield of five cents on the tax rate for 10 years. This does not mean an immediate tax increase since the five cents is already levied and placed into a general construction fund.

We are not dodging the fact that dedicating this nickel on the tax rate may eventually cost taxpayers some additional taxes that may have to be levied to pay for other city construction expenses. However, we believe that this risk is a small price to pay for healing the parkland-versus-pool division of opinion which was emerging in the community.

Our thanks to each of the council members who labored so long, listened so carefully and finally contributed so much to the solution. Our thanks also to the people who kept coming to meetings (and coming to meetings, and coming to meetings). The debate was carried out at a very high level. It never became rancorous. For the most part, each side sympathized with the aspirations of the other. And the applause at the (literally) eleventh-hour compromise sent everyone home marveling at the dynamics of the Greenbelt political process.

Well done!

Rick Janisch

Rick Janisch, age 30, a former resident of Springhill Lake, was killed by an automobile on June 23 in Takoma Park where he lived.

Born in Sioux Falls, S.D., Mr. Janisch grew up in the Washington area and was graduated from Parkdale High School. He received a bachelor's degree in journalism from the University of Maryland.

He became a reporter with the Charleston Gazette, W. Va. and received an award from the West Virginia Press Association. He also worked as a news editor for the Washington Tribune before it went out of business in 1982. He had been a free-lance writer for numerous publications, including the Washington Post.

Mr. Janisch was active in anti-nuclear protests at Lafayette Park and had been a volunteer with Martha's Table, a group that provides free meals to the poor. He wrote songs and played the guitar.

He is survived by his parents Hazel and Gene Janisch, Winchester, Va., sisters Penni Moler, Gerrardstown, W. Va. and Jean Ann Adams, Winchester, and grandmother, Loretta Wold of Sioux Falls.

WSSC Warns Residents About Phony Employees

Several families in Hyattsville/College Park have reported two males impersonating "water company employees" to gain entry into their homes recently.

The impersonators want entry "to test the water." Afterwards, they attempt to sell the homeowner water filtration equipment.

According to one of the WSSC's customers, the men claim to be "affiliates of the Commission." In fact, they are not. They are described as being white, between 40 and 50 years old.

WSSC reminds its customers to always demand proper identification from meter readers and/or utility workers before opening the door. All Commission employees carry laminated photo-identification cards.

BENEFIT BARBECUE

An outdoor barbecue to benefit the Family Crisis Center of Prince Georges County will be held at the Greenbelt Hilton on Friday, July 10 from 5 p.m. until dark. The event, which is open to the public, is sponsored by WPGC radio in support of the shelter for victims of domestic violence. The facility is located in Mount Rainier.

For a small donation those attending will receive a hot dog or hamburger, as well as other refreshments. Music, door prizes, and appearances by media and other personalities are among highlights of the evening.

SENIORS' SOFTBALL

by Jerry Conway

On June 24 the Greenbelt Senior Citizens Co-ed Slow Pitch Softball Team maintained second place in the Montgomery County Softball League after suffering a loss to Olney-Sandy Spring Seniors by a score of 7-6. Our team made three or more mental errors, and we failed to demonstrate our hitting power. Jim McCann and Burt Kerr each scored a triple; Al Geiger scored a double; Tiny Pisano scored three singles; Mike Burchick and Jean Levesque scored a single. The Olney Team scored one homerun and demonstrated spectacular outfield catching on the run against our big hitters.

We now have four wins and two losses; there are two remaining games to be played on July 1 and July 8. We will play two extra games with Dundalk Seniors of Baltimore County, the Maryland State Champions of 1986. We are inspired to win the championships this year with improved composure, mental alertness and better hitting. Fortunately, we have acquired a new player with fielding and hitting skills. We are still hoping to receive some additional hitters to strengthen our team. Everyone is welcome to practice at Braden Field at 9:30 a.m., each Monday morning with the Greenbelt Seniors Team.

Misses the Point

Tony Pisano's letter in response to John Ward's warning about a sellout of the Roosevelt Center misses the point. For one thing, Mr. Ward never said the mall would "deteriorate" in a physical sense. He simply warned that if the owner ends up renting to whatever private interests might come along, the integrity of Greenbelt's commercial center could be seriously compromised.

It may be true that the Utopia Theater is not in prime condition, but this is not the only criterion we should be using to judge its value. Surely an arts center in the heart of Greenbelt is a cultural asset which contributes to a sense of community spirit. The Arts Center has not been in existence all that long, and it has just received a generous grant from the city to help upgrade its operation and appearance. Don't we owe it that chance?

Pisano's conclusion that "the mall could only benefit if the owner were to rent the theater space to the highest bidder" is what really strikes me as "preposterous". What if the "highest bidder" turns out to be a video arcade or adult bookstore? No matter how "pleasing to the eye" and poshly decorated, a business of this type could hardly be considered an asset to Greenbelt.

Ruth E. Kastner

Support for Utopia

I must respond to the letter in the News Review of June 18. It was in reference to the Utopia Theater. It seems we are all in danger of becoming a society that "knows the price of every thing and the value of nothing."

Just suppose that there were no more money to keep the library in Greenbelt open. Then imagine that all the library books were placed in the Utopia Theater. Would their new lowly location detract one bit from the wisdom contained in these volumes? The theater, after all, is an extension of your schools and your libraries.

However, in all fairness, the physical condition of the theater leaves much to be desired. Let me hope that this letter will inspire private and public funds so that the outward physical condition of the theater will equal its bright and shining spirit.

Hoyer Sponsors Seminar

On Tuesday, July 7, Congressman Steny H. Hoyer will sponsor a seminar for federal employees on the federal retirement system. The seminar will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the Largo Student Center at Prince Georges County Community College.

Panelists on hand to discuss the changes in the federal retirement system include representatives from the Congressional Research Service, the Office of Personnel Management and the Federal Government Service Task Force.

Federal employees who began federal service on or before December 31, 1983 have the option of choosing whether to participate in the old Civil Service Retirement System (CSRS) or the new Federal Employees' Retirement System (FERS). The opportunity to switch to the new system will only be available during an "open season" lasting from July 1 – December 31, 1987.

For more information contact Congressman Hoyer's Washington office at 225–4131.

Letters to the Editor

Open Letter

During the past several weeks, I have spoken with many friends about running for city council. It is clear that Council must work together more effectively. Goals for a better Greenbelt must be established by a unified council. Programs such as the charrette and strategic planning deserve to be treated in expedited fashion. I believe that I could contribute towards achieving these goals. My experience as Chairman of the Community Relations Advisory Bord and my work with the Greenbelt Arts Center has given me a keen appreciation of the concerns of citizens community-wide.

However, it is clear to me that I must provide greater attention to Roosevelt Center and the continued development of the Arts Center. The space formerly leased by Ben Franklin has been vacant for three months. The deterioration of the buildings continues. Many of you are familiar with the landlord's proposal to increase the rent of the Arts Center by over 500 percent. All of these factors bring me to the conclusion—I must rekindle my efforts in these areas. Therefore, I will not be able to wage an effective campaign for city council.

However, I do wish to declare a continuing commitment to serve the community, through the Arts Center and as Chair of the Community Relations Advisory Board. Additionally, I will continue to press for items which I feel are essential to preserving a high quality of life in Greenbelt.

Specifically, I recommend that the next council:

(1) Re-establish Roosevelt Center as the town's community center. It is the "center" which can unify the city and strengthen its own economic vitality through architectural quality, its unique town character, and an ongoing program of activities co–sponsored by the Recreation Department, the Arts Center and the Roosevelt Center Merchants. Association.

Council needs to recognize that unless it takes an active role in determining the "Center's" future, nothing meaningful will happen. Council should adopt a cultural policy, incorporating the Arts Center as part of the Recreation Department, condemning or purchasing the Utopia Theater to be used as a Recreation Department facility.

(2) Establish a Master Development Plan. The principle of managing our town's growth is not only consistent with our town's history, but is essential. Because we have never established what our "master development plan" is, we have not been able to lobby effectively from a commonly held position.

(3) Consider as items that could be funded with a second bond issue: a Recreation Center in the only area of town which does not have one Recreation facility—Greenbelt East, an addition on the Springhill Lake Recreation Center and purchase of the Roosevelt Center building.

(4) Finally, approve in next year's budget the request for night-time differential for the police department. Why continue to lose good officers to jurisdictions which employ such measures?

In this, our 50th year, we express a great deal of pride. But we must reassert that our number one priority is a commitment to improving the quality of life. This will not be an easy task. But then, makng a commitment to establishing a planned city was not an easy task either.

I hope that our next council will provide vision and courage, a dedication to "getting things done," and a spirit of cooperation to assure that Greenbelt remains unified in its effort to keep Greenbelt special.

Konrad Herling

Too Much Talk

The Letters to the Editor regarding the bond issue expenditures indicate the confusion generated by the indecision, inaction, and lack of leadership of council. It's surprising that council is still trying to set priorities for projects discussed prior to the bond referendum. They have even failed in obtaining the bond money approved by the voters over two years ago and talk of going back to the voters to ask for more.

There was no doubt in my mind. $2 million—police station, $2 million—parkland, and $2 million swimming pool. If funds were available, other projects would be done.

The reasons were simple. To insure passage, needed and popular projects for voter acceptance became the major expenditures. One amount of $6 million, rather than single vote items would prevent the polarizing of voters against it.

$10 million too high. $6 million could be just right. Don't have it in a regular election to show council solidarity.

There was no doubt, then and none now, that the police station had the support of the majority of citizens. The increase in manpower, the strong lobbying of the F.O.P. and the Crime Prevention Committee made it popular.

Parkland had and must have the highest priority. There is so little of it left. Past councils have fought hard and long to get and preserve it. Every candidate in every city election promised it. This council gives it one of the lowest priorities. They even vote to place the police station on parkland purchased in the last winning referendum, and now will have to expend funds to replace it.

We knew the swimming pool would be difficult. Enough voters in the swimming pool referendum, but not enough to win a solid base of votes.

This council indecision is reflected in the lack of activity in other major projects as well.

There has been too much talk and no decisions.

This could be called "The Do Nothing Council."

Swim Team News

by Emily Sonneveldt

The Greenbelt Swim Team opened its meet season on Saturday, June 29 at Adelphi. The team is ranked higher this year than ever before in its history and we certainly gave a good showing at this meet, losing by only 8 points. Leading the team were Shannon Berger, Jeanne Kepler, and Carolyn and Jenny Drake, all with 15 points each. This means that they each won all three of their individual events. Other swimmers with high points this meet were Josh Kepler and Cooper Pappas each with 13, Trevor Groft and Kathy Barwick with 11 each, Rob Reed 10, Allison Low 9, Nicolas Jones and Scott Berger with 8 each, Ardith Porosky and Kevin Floyd with 7 each and Tommy Bradley, Reed Wirick and Chris Corder with 6 points each.

This week's dual meet will be held on Wednesday evening at Montpelier. New swimmers are always welcome to the Greenbelt Swim Team.

CITY NOTES

Greenbelt Grab Bag

by Maxine Headline

So you thought only Punchin' Judy could write this column! Well, here I am-am-am – Maxine Headline, computer graphic clone programmed for you by a local mad genius. Who? Don't ev-ev-even ask. You don't want to know.

It seems that Greenbelt is having its 50th an–an-aniversary. Congratulations. Lucky you're here now. You couldn't have known me 50 years ago. No com-com-computers.

No television either. It had been in-in-invented. of course. but you could have had it on all day without getting a program. Not that you'd have had to do without soap operas. All you had to do was turn-turn–turn on the radio.

Isn't technology wonderful? Fifty years ago you would have had to listen to propeller noises instead of jet whine. The engine overheating could have been sizzling in your DeSoto instead of the Honda. That's what's known as progress in the high-tech world.

You say you still have that DeSoto? How do you ever ex–expect to get 20 minutes into the future? Or even 10. You pro-pro-probably remember when there was no Parkway or Beltway and you had to drive on University Lane. You say there was a bus into Washington? Go-go-go away – you're blowing my circuits.

Just be glad that the future is now. Turn on the air con-conconditioner while you cook your frozen dinner in the microwave. Maybe you feel like eating out; fast food chains will be hap-hap–happy to serve you in numerous Greenbelt locations. You're making me hungry. Pass the electrons.

Would you believe that when Greenbelt was in its in–in-infancy this story would have been typed on a typewriter instead of a word processor? Hard to believe! What? This is a type-type-typewriter? Quoirks! I'm outta here - back to the fu-fu-future. You can have your old column, Pun–Pun-Punchin' Judy.

Police Blotter

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

While discharging passengers about 5 p.m., June 21 in the 6000 block of Greenbelt Road the driver saw another car pull in front so as to block her. When she blew her horn and pulled around the car she saw that the man was holding a handgun.

A man walked into a doctor's office about 12 noon and demanded in a threatening manner that he be given a hypodermic syringe, apparently to be used with narcotics. It was given to him and he left before officers arrived. Several hours later Pfc. Troy Harding arrested a 37–year–old man of no fixed address for the offense, in the 17 Court of Ridge Road. The suspect was held on $10,000 bond.

A 31–year–old man went to the assistance of a woman he thought was being threatened by a man about 3:30 a.m. June 29 in the 6900 block of Hanover Parkway. It turned out the arguing couple were acquaintances. The good samaritan was shoved to the ground.

Officer Tom Keifline arrested a 27-year–old non-resident woman after a traffic stop about 5:20 a.m., June 22 when he learned there was an open arrest warrant on file for her. He then found a plastic baggie containing suspected cocaine in her pocket.

On June 23 a video cassette recorder was stolen from one of the conference rooms in an office building in the 6400 block of Ivy Lane. Also stolen the same day from an office in the same building was a duffle bag. The contents of the bag were left at the scene and the bag was apparently used to carry out the stolen VCR.

A non-resident juvenile was arrested about 12:25 p.m., June 22 for stealing clothes from Marshall's Department Store at Beltway Plaza. He was charged on a juvenile citation and turned over to his parents.

Four rings were stolen during business hours on Jcne 24 from Kay Jewelers at Beltway Plaza.

A 1979 Chevrolet Z28 Camaro, Maryland RGN968 was stolen June 22 from the parking lot in the 7700 block of Hanover Parkway.

A 1983 GMC pickup truck, reported stolen to Prince Georges County police on June 19 was located June 20 by Officer Robert Musterman in the 7900 block of Mandan Road.

A dark blue Roadmaster Pursuit 24-inch 10–speed bicycle was stolen about 8:45 p.m., June 23 from in front of the Springhill Lake Pharmacy in the 9200 block of Springhill Lane.

A license tag N.Y. 2250BD4 was stolen June 24 from a vehicle parked in the 9100 block of Edmonston Terrace, and on June 21 a diplomatic registration tag DDJ170 was stolen from a car parked in the 6200 block of Springhill Court.

Thefts from and vandalism to autos were reported in the 7200 block of Hanover Drive on the Holiday Inn lot, in the 6100 block of Breezewood Court and on the Beltway Plaza parking lot.

On his first visit, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt said, "I have seen the blueprints for this project, but the actual sight itself exceeds anything I dreamed of." Boiler Rooms, Sidewalks, and Parking Discussed at GHI Board Meeting

by Mavis Fletcher

At its June 18 meeting, the board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. reviewed a staff proposal for converting some of the small boiler rooms attached to the frame homes to storage lockers for the members. The GHI membership, at the recent annual meeting, approved such use of these rooms provided enough members showed interest in renting them and provided the rents would recoup the cost of constructing the lockers within seven years.

The staff proposal showed a typical conversion resulting in eight storage bins of about 4x6 feet. The staff recommended a monthly rental of $15 which would recover the cost of constructing the bins in about five years. Director Betty Deitch asked how GHI could charge $15 when garages rent for only $18 per month. General Manager Ron Colton explained that the garage rents could never cover the cost of construction of the garages if they had to be built now. The rents reflect the fact that the garages already exist and are set at a level which pays upkeep and some other costs, he said. Both Deitch and Director Chuck Hess then suggested that garage rents are perhaps too low.

However, the directors decided not to set the rental rate for the storage bins until management had provided some comparative cost figures for similar storage in commercial facilities. Letters will also be sent to members in courts where such boiler rooms exist to determine the level of interest in renting storage.

Crescent–Ridge Sidewalk

The board voted to recommend to the city council that a sidewalk be constructed on the inner curve of the street between 2 Court of Crescent and 2 Court of Ridge Road and on the outer curve of the street between the 2 and 4 Courts of Ridge. A pedestrian crosswalk would be placed in the vicinity of the 2 Court of Ridge to make it easier to follow the sidewalk from one side of the street to the other.

The recommendation sent to the city adhered to a report of the Architecture and Environment Committee. Because of a steep slope, the GHI staff had recommended a straight path cutting across the green space between 2 Court of Crescent and 2 Court of Ridge. Director Wayne Williams and McCawley suggested sending both concepts to the city and letting the city decide, but that suggestion did not prevail. Six directors voted for the motion to recommend the A&E version. Williams abstained from the vote, saying he wanted to know more about the slope before he voted for the curbside route. Director Andrea Haslinger was absent due to vacation.

Parking Regulations

The board discussed some rewording of the parking regulations to make them reflect the new parking policy on which the corporation has been working for the past 18 months. The board decided that use of visitor spaces (where they exist) will continue to be restricted to the members of that court or to the members of other courts who have been assigned parking in that court. Guests in the court could also use the spaces.

Director Nancy Hutchins queried this policy. She pointed out that GHI will be building extra spaces in order to achieve the parking policy goals and it might be better to open these visitor spaces to members in courts where parking is short.

The board did not formally adopt the regulations, which will be presented at a later meeting for adoption.

New Computer System

According to a staff study, the present GHI computer system will not be able to handle the new automated maintenance management system which will be put into effect during the next year. In addition, more of GHI's other operations are being computerized, overloading the current system which was designed to handle only the fiscal records.

The staff had arrived at a recommendation to solicit bids for a computer system; however, the board, on which several computer professionals serve, requested considerable additional information on the proposed system.

1987 Audit

According to McCawley, who, as treasurer of GHI, chairs the Finance Committee, the committee last year recommended that GHI solicit bids to perform the annual GHI audit. He repeated the recommendation this year. He was strongly supported by Hess, a professional accountant, who pointed out that a new accounting firm would act as "a new broom—it would look at things differently."

President Margaret Hogensen, however, characterized the present auditing firm as excellent and especially praised their awareness of tax matters as they affect cooperatives. Williams added that he had never seen auditors who offer as much service as the current firm.

A motion by McCawley to solicit bids for the audit was defeated 4–3, with McCawley, Hess and Director Alan Freas voting for the motion.

Other Items of Interest

Colton announced that Leta Mach, GHI's Information Specialist, had resigned to accept the post of Publications Manager for the National Cooperative Business Association.

The board voted to invite a representative of the National Association of Housing Cooperatives to speak at the August 20 meeting. On March 26, the board had voted not to renew GHI's membership in NAHC. Hogensen indicated that the representative wishes to have the opportunity to address the board on this subject.

At the request of the board, the staff had investigated security systems which could be installed in GHI homes. A sophisticated system involving motion and smoke detectors and continuous monitoring was found and the specifications furnished to the board. If installed in all 1600 GHI homes, Colton said the system would cost about $350 per home. It would cost 10-20 percent more if purchased by individual members. In addition, a $6-$8 monitoring fee would have to be paid monthly. The board decided to make the system available to members under the discount purchasing program. Williams also recommended that a less sophisticated system be made available under the program.

Colton announced that GHI offices will be closed on July 3. Emergency maintenance will be available.

The next meeting of the board of directors will be on July 16.

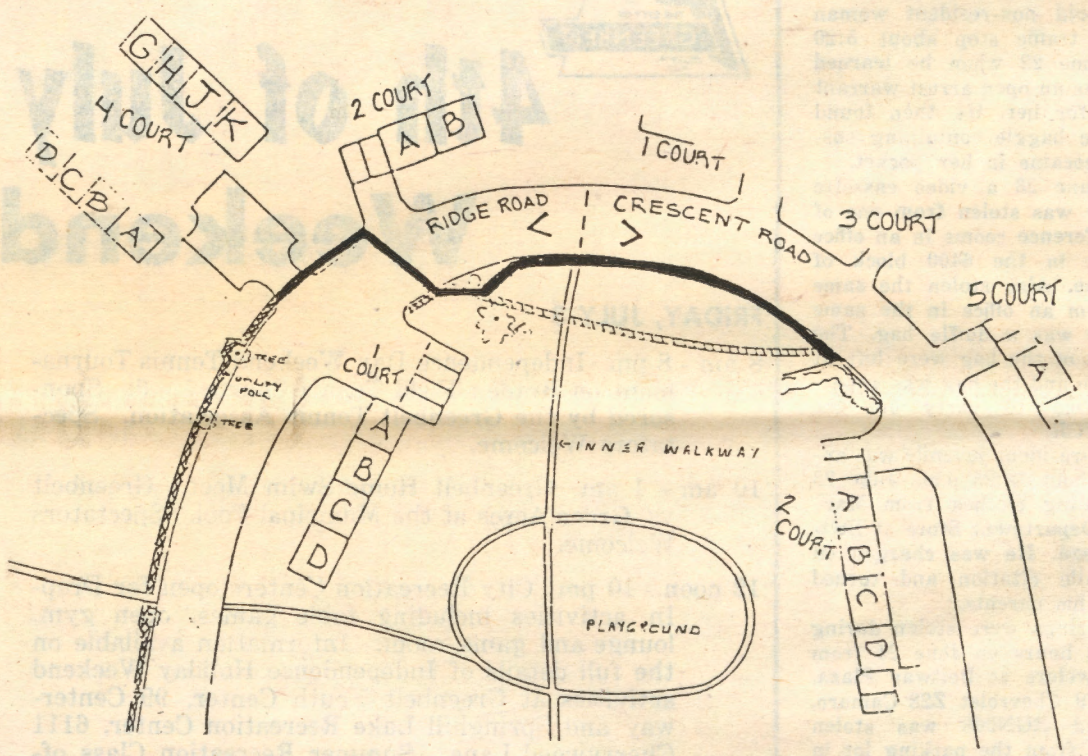

Hoyer Elected Task Force Co-Chairman

Congressman Steny Hoyer was elected to serve as co-chairperson of the Federal Government Service Task Force. Hoyer succeeds former Congressman Mike Barnes in the post. In addition, Congressman Vic Fazio (D-CA, 4th) will continue as co–chairperson.

The Task Force was formed in 1981 by members of Congress united in their interests in issues of importance to federal employees and retirees. It serves as an advocacy group and resource for members of the House and Senate. Hoyer has been a Task Force Executive Committee member since he took office in June, 1981, and he served as a vice–chairperson in the 99th Congress.

Hoyer commented on his election that "The Task Force in its six years of existence has brought together members on a wide range of committees, in both the House and Senate, who are strategically placed to help federal employees. Although we have not always been successful, the task force structure allows us to develop successful strategy and share information."

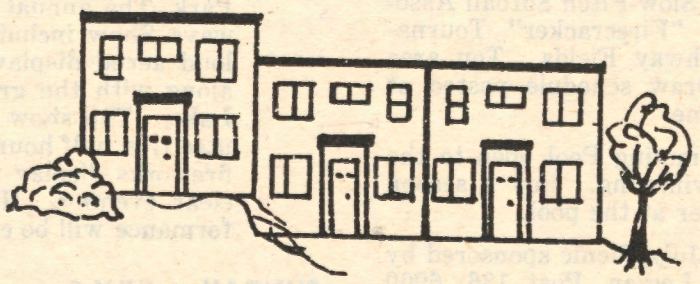

He continued, "It is time for those of us who are advocates for the federal worker, both within Congress and without, to move beyond reacting to the disastrous proposals of the Reagan years. We need to forge a new agenda for the federal worker, and to rebuild the morale which has been destroyed. Obviously improved pay and benefits, more in line with private sector counterparts, is a good place to start. The Federal Government Service Task Force gives us an excellent base for our mission."

Proposals for a sidewalk along Ridge Road west of Westway and at Ridge and Crescent. The board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. recommended the proposal of the Architecture & Environment Committee to the city.

50 Years Ago In Greenbelt

by Mary Moien

One Saturday morning several months ago, five men gathered at my home to discuss their childhood in Greenbelt. These men have remained steadfast friends over the years, although none currently lives in Greenbelt.

Charlie Howie and Ted Havens grew up next door to each other on Gardenway. Bruce MacEwen and Don Walker lived on Ridge Road and John Schaffer on Crescent Road. All of their families moved into town in 1937 and 1938 and most lived in more than one of the original houses during their years here.

The five became a group when they all started kindergarten together at Center School. They relived many of their earliest memories of being boys in a new town:

—The school was the focus of all the city activities; the library was there; boxing was there; New Year's Eve parties, etc. Each year they would celebrate spring with May Pole Dances.

—They remembered that the men had softball teams organized by Superblock—"A" block vs. "B" block. (Who even refers to the superblocks now?)

—They recalled Mr. Braden shuttling the town folk to the street car line in his station wagon. In 1940. the street car stopped at the intersection of Greenbelt Road and Rhode Island Avenue, where the Book Nook and the Branchville Fire Department are located. The street car went to downtown Washington by way of Hyattsville. Most of the major shopping by Greenbelters was done in those two places.

—All Greenbelt Night — the biggest annual event in town. There were girls' and boys' basketball games, dances, skits, and the crowning of Miss All Greenbelt. She was voted in by the high school students. They still remembered some of the girls who were crowned—Rhonda Bibler, Esther Wolfe, and Marie Nehr.

—On the Fourth of July, there was a parade and "Pop" Cipriano would bring ponies to town and pull a cart in the parade. They remembered Officer Austin Green being the parade marshal.

—There was Oldham's Farm, in the woods beyond what is now the GHI Administration building on Hamilton Place. It was always thought to be a haunted house and the kids remembered seeing old graves back in the woods near the farm house.

—Tom Poston spent some of his early years in Greenbelt. He is the actor who plays the handyman at the inn on the "Bob Newhart Show." He was once a babysitter for one of the boys. In addition, Ross Martin, who co-starred on "Wild Wild West" once lived in Greenbelt.

—Schrom's Airport was on the edge of Greenbelt. According to the five pals, the hangar was located at the current site of Jasper's in Greenway and the Holiday Inn is built on the runway. They used to traipse through the woods to watch the planes and gliders.

The war touched the town in several ways visible to the children:

—The kids would collect fat, paper, tin foil, and milk weed pods for the war effort. The milk weed pods went into the making of Mae West vests — life preservers. If a child collected enough paper, the child would win a free boat trip to Marshall Hall Amusement Park—a park on the Potomac River that was across from Mount Vernon.

—Because Fort Meade was so close, they could see many planes going overhead. Some of the men remembered going as boys with their parents to the roof of the theater to monitor all planes that flew by. They reported the type and direction of each plane.

—One of the boys snuck out of Center School one afternoon and was playing in the Center Mall. Later his mother asked him if he had done anything unusual that day. He knew he'd been found out. It turned out that his mother was on duty that day on the theater roof spotting planes and was also able to 'spot' him.

Springhill Lake to Host Summer Birthday Party

Springhill Lake Fountain Lodge will be hosting a birthday party in honor of all Gemini, Cancer and Leo babies. All adults in the community are invited to help celebrate on Thursday, July 9, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. A giant cake with candles, snacks and beverages will be served. There is a small entrance fee; however, those celebrating their birthday get in free.

Library to Hold Summer Morning Book Session

The Greenbelt Branch Library's monthly morning book discussons continue through the summer for the first time but with a slightly different schedule. The group will meet on Tuesdays, July 21 and August 18, resuming the regular schedule in September. On July 21 at 10:15 a.m., the group will discuss Louise Erdrich's Love Medicine, winner of the 1985 National Book Crtics Award for fiction. The topic for the August meeting will also be decided. Copies of Love Medicine are available at the library. Call 345-5800 or TDD 345-0831 for more information.

The library would like to thank the Friends of the Greenbelt Library and their many volunteers for their help with the Library Book Sale and Friends Bake Sale. Special thanks to Eileen Peterson and Barbara Simon for organizing this event.

Did You Know?

That Greenbelt Consumer Services, which operated all commercial enterprises in town during the early years, tried desperately to find a third barber in 1943, when the population surged after the defense homes were built? The two local barbers were "tearing their hair," it was reported. The valet shop was also overloaded. In June that year, the shop declared a moratorium. No items would be accepted for cleaning until the staff caught up. Not until November did the shop begin advertising that it could now take in new cleaning and laundry.

That the Greenbelt town council passed an ordinance in July 1943 prohibiting the blowing of automobile horns? The action was taken at the request of defense plant workers on night shifts.

Golden Age Club

by Mary Gardner

The Golden Age Club will not have a luncheon at the American Legion in July, because of the annual convention of the Legion. Instead, the club will have a pot luck luncheon for members on Wednesday, July 8 at 11:30 a.m. at the Youth Center, Janet James is chairman of this event. Each person attending should bring either a main dish, salad or dessert with enough to serve yourself and four others. The club will furnish the beverags. Everyone is encouraged to wear a funny hat.

Ruthlee Kolbe, program chairman, announced that Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, and City Manager James Giese will be at our meeting on July 15 to speak about North End School.

J. Taylor McCarl Retires

J. Taylor McCarl, one of a family of dentists who have served the Greenbelt community for fifty years, recently announced his retirement. He had been practicing dentistry for over thirty years.

McCarl was nine years old when he came to Greenbelt in 1938. His father, James Walter McCarl, had been invited to be the new town's dentist. After years of service during WW II and studies at Bob Jones University, McCarl returned to Greenbelt to join with his father and brother, Clayton, Sr., in the family practice.

Many Greenbelters have memories of their trips to the dentist's office; some tell stories from childhood of movies on the wall and hand puppets - all designed to put even the youngest patient at ease.

An avid outdoorsman, McCarl has decided to begin his retirement with an extended camping trip throughout the country.

Toastmasters Meet Here

The Spring Speakers, a club of Toastmasters International, has formed to promote better public speaking. "This club was formed for the entire Greenbelt area ,and we are eager to recruit more new members," said Marvin Holmes, president. "Toastmasters will show you how to express your thoughts, ideas and opinions and develop your leadership potential through an enjoyable — yet thoroughly professional — educational program."

For more information call Marvin Holmes at 345-6595. The next meeting will be Tuesday, July 14 at 7 p.m., SHL Community Room. Meetings are held the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

Police Arrest Sixteen In Two Drug Raids

In two separate raids carried out during the early morning hours of June 26 and 28, Greenbelt police seized suspected narcotics and paraphernalia and arrested 16 persons, three at a Crescent Road apartment and 13 at the Holiday Inn.

Primarily on the basis of information gathered by Pfc. Troy Harding, a uniformed patrol officer, he and Det. Pfc. Robert Keller obtained a search warrant for an apartment at 36-D Crescent Road.

According to police spokesman Patrick McAndrew, at 1:15 a.m. June 26, officers of the Patrol Division, Selective Enforcement Unit and Criminal Investigations Divson, broke through the front door when the occupants faled to respond to their requests for admittance. Searching the premises, they seized 25 grams of suspected cocaine with an estimated street value of $2500 and a variety of drug paraphernalia. John A. Tielman and Neil S. Lenet, both 26, who lived there and were present, were charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance (cocaine) with intent to distribute. They were each held on $25,000 bond. A young woman who was not present when the officers entered, returned while the raid was in progress. She was not charged with drug violations but was held on an open arrest warrant for the Prince Georges County Sheriff's Department.

Pfc. Harding also developed the information, together with Pfc. James Parker of the Selective Enforcement Unit, which led to the second drug raid, says McAndrew. Acting on that information, officers of the Patrol Division and the Selective Enforcement Unit entered two fifth-floor rooms at the Holiday Inn on Hanover Drive about 12:05 a.m., June 28. They arrested 13 persons and seized suspected cocaine and PCP with an estimated value of $5,000. Also seized were several thousand dollars in cash. The Laurel City Police Department assisted with an officer and their transport vehicle.

The seven men and six women arrested, all non-resident, ranged in age from 19 to 33. Eleven of them were charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance. One of the women was also charged with possession of PCP. Two of the women were not charged with drug violations but were held for the Prince Georges County Sheriff's Department on active warrants for failing to appear in court.

Boneau Leads Greenbelters In Annual 10 Km Race

On one of the most beautiful days for running this summer, 31 runners participated in the third annual 10 kilometer (6.2 miles) race around Greenbelt Lake on June 28. Doug Mock (20) of Bowie easily won in 35 minutes flat. Not many races at this distance have been held at the lake, so this may be a new record; the previous record was held by Steve Daniels of Greenbelt, who ran it in 36:18 in June 1985. Bill Stahr (26) of Gaithersburg was second in 35:59. Jonathan Boneau (25) finished 6th in 38:30 with Jack Katz (34), also of Greenbelt, 18th in 48:21. Former Greenbelter Larry Noel (36) was 8th in 40:43. The first woman was Barb Bailey (27), of University Park, in 45:26. The last finishers came in at 67:30. The Prince Georges Running Club conducted this race.

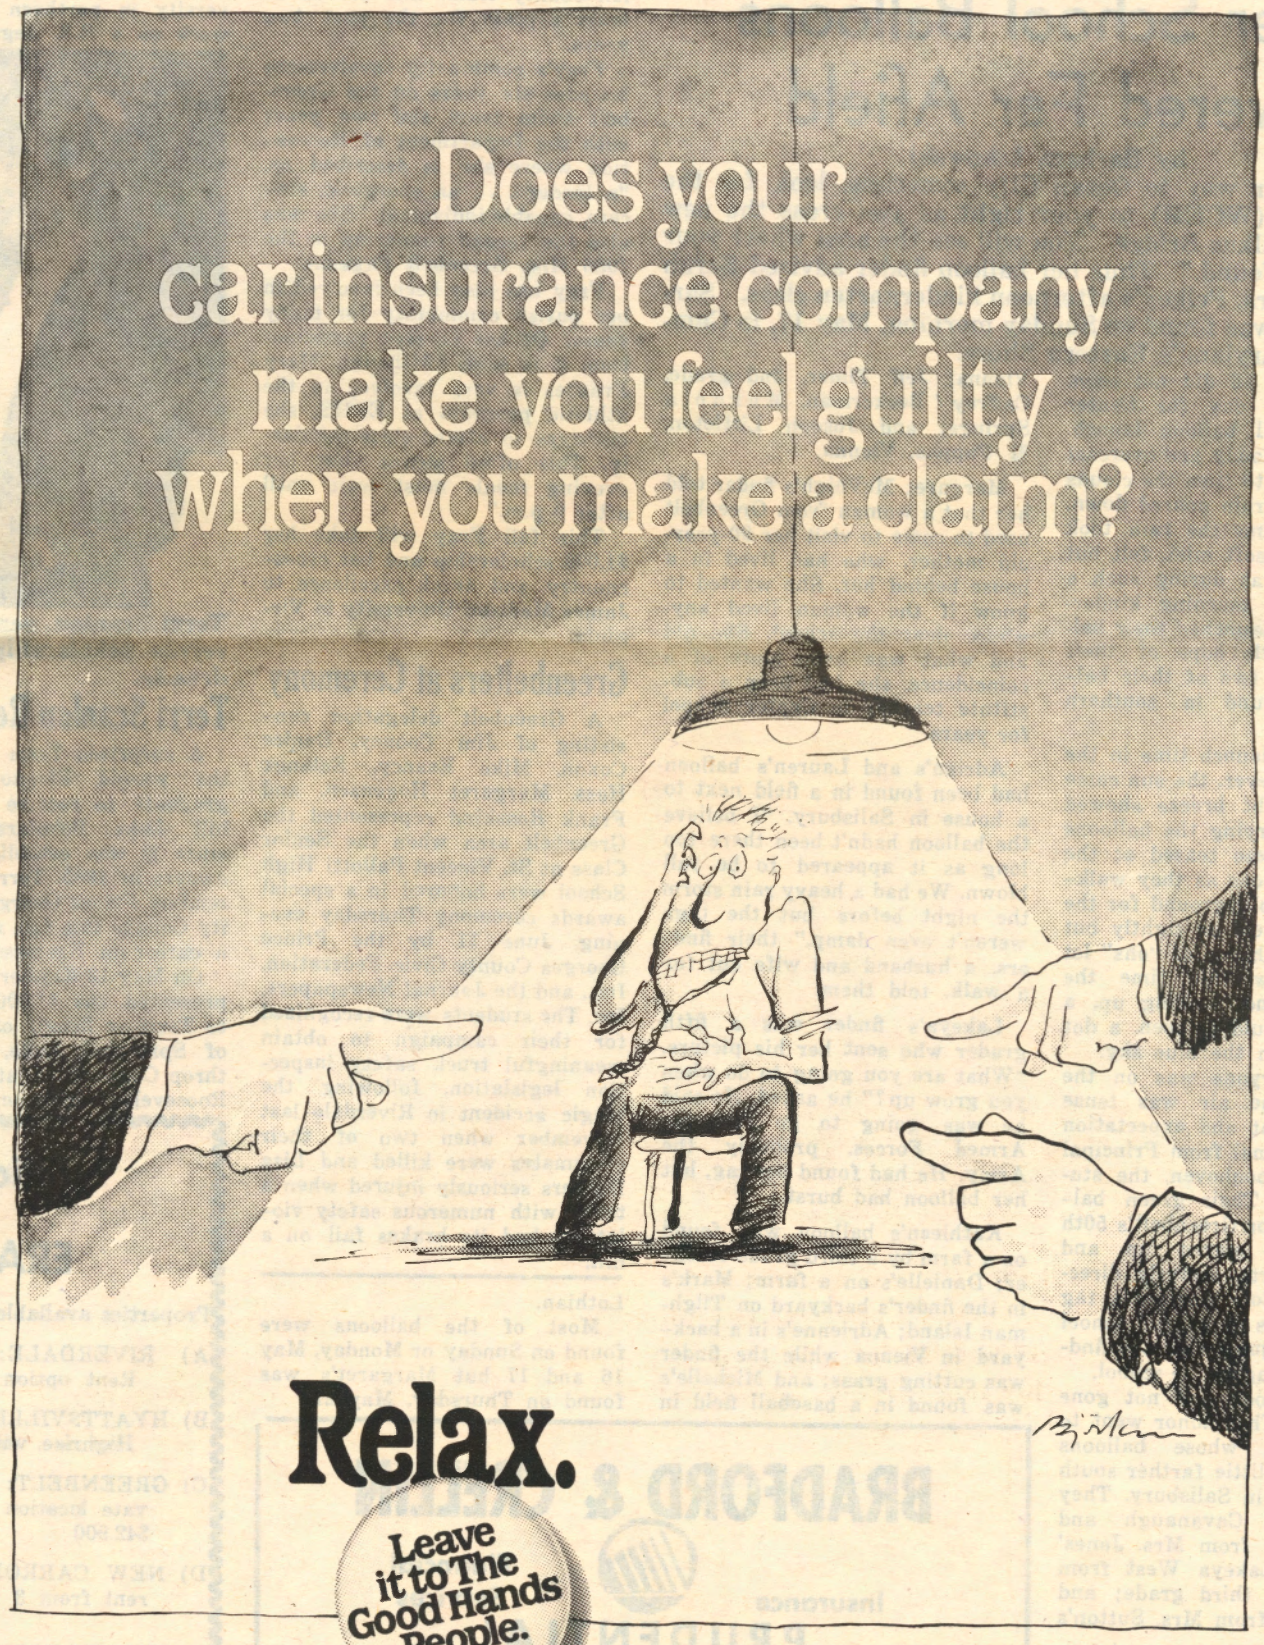

In a one-lap around the lake race (1.27 miles) Mike O'Brien (9) of St. Hugh's School, living in Seabrook, won in 9:59. Jennifer Logston (12) of Greenbelt was 3rd in 11:13 with P.J. Jopling of Greenbelt 4th in 12:40. After the race Larry Noel (66) ran 12:57.

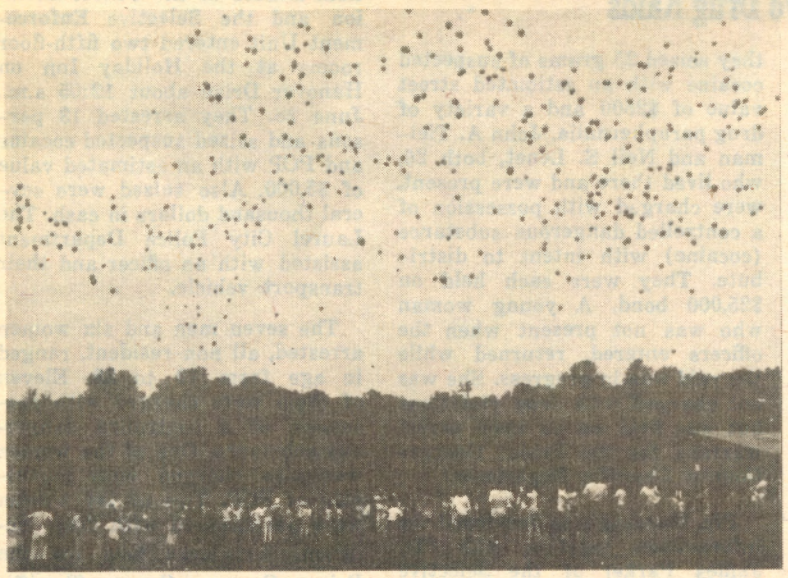

For future reference and for anyone who wants to run 10 kilometers, going clockwise, the start is 38 yards beyond the 1/8 mile marker continuing for almost 4 7/8 laps to finish at the Refreshment Stand.

Merchandise and gift certificates were supplied by Sporting Life, a sports store in Beltway Plaza. Other awards were the new visor caps with sweatband and Greenbelt Running imprinted on them.

On Saturday, July 11, at Greenbelt Lake, two race walking events are scheduled: at 8:30 a.m. a 1¼ mile, and at 9 a.m. a 4 mile. A demonstration of race-walking technique will be given. Race walking is an olympic sport. Beginners are welcome.

On Saturday, July 18, the Road Runners Club of America is holding many 5 kilometer (3.1 miles) races all over the county as part of the Women's Distance Festival. Participating in the festival, the Prince Georges Running Club will hold a 5 kilometer race for women only at Greenbelt Park, starting at 8 a.m. An open 5 kilometer race for everyone will start at 9 a.m. The PGRC third annual picnic will start at 11 a.m. All the races have a fee and runners may sign up at the race. For further information, call Larry Noel at 474-9362.

Center School Balloons Discovered Far Afield

by Barbara Likowski

"On your way to Ocean City sometime, look for the radio tower (WCEM) to your right as you cross the new Frederick Malkus Bridge. You will see the area where your balloon was found." Thus her balloon finder advised Sarah King from Mrs. Pelkey's afternoon kindergarten class. Sarah's balloon was found on Sunday morning, May 17, in Cambridge on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

Friday, May 15 did not seem to be a good day for Center School's annual balloon launch. The sky was cloudy and overcast and from time to time the clouds opened up and rain poured down. Some of the time the rain took the form of a soft mist, felt but not seen. It was during such a mist that the morning kindergarten classes launched their balloons with little hope of their going far. Yet two of their balloons were found in southern Maryland.

Just before launch time in the afternoon, however, the sun came out and a light breeze showed promise of carrying the balloons aloft. The breeze teased at the children's balloons as they walked out to the playground for the launch. Most held on tightly but an occasional chorus of "ohs" let everyone know this time the breeze won and, looking up, a lone balloon could be seen, a dot disappearing in the blue sky.

Finally everyone was on the playground, the air was tense with excitement and expectation and, at the signal from Principal John Van Schoonhoven, the students let go. Their green balloons—green for Greenbelt's 50th anniversary — soared up and away in a north easterly direction. Each balloon carried a tag with the child's name and school on it and a request that the finder return the tag to the school.

Sarah's balloon had not gone the farthest. That honor went to four children whose balloons were found a little farther south of Cambridge in Salisbury. They were Lauren Cavanaugh and Adrian Feagin from Mrs. Jones' first grade; Lakeya West from Mrs. Garvin's third grade; and Kenneth Hall from Mrs. Sutton's fifth grade.

Other balloons found belonged to: Danielle Barber, Mrs. Manning's a.m. kindergarten, Ridgely; Eric Thornton, 4th grade, Jackson, Southern Maryland; Kathleen Broderick, a.m. kindergarten, Manning, Greensboro; Theresa Harley, 5th grade, Sutton, Hebron; Margaret McVeigh, 3rd grade, Garvin, Hebron; Michelle Harley, 6th grade, Marino, Lothian; Mark Nash, 5th grade, Sutton, Tilghman Island; Adrianne Harris, 4th grade, Bastin, Vienna; Jeff Timer, 2nd grade, Caffrey / Beckerman, Mardela Springs; and Joseph Littleton, ¾ Pappas, Vienna.

Margaret McVeigh's finder told her that a woman from Greenbelt used to come to visit her 90-year-old mother, who had lived in a house behind her. She wanted to know if the woman lived anywhere near the school. She did and what was even more of a coincidence, she had been a substitute teacher in Center School for years.

Adrian's and Lauren's balloon had been found in a field next to a house in Salisbury. "I believe the balloon hadn't been there too long as it appeared to be full blown. We had a heavy rain storm the night before but the tags weren't even damp," their finders, a husband and wife out for a walk, told them.

Lakeya's finder was a fifth grader who sent her his picture. "What are you going to do when you grow up?" he asked. He said he was going to go into the Armed Forces, probably the Army. He had found her tag, but her balloon had burst.

Kathleen's balloon was found on a farm by a third grade teacher; Danielle's on a farm; Mark's in the finder's backyard on Tilghman Island; Adrienne's in a backyard in Vienna while the finder was cutting grass; and Michelle's was found in a baseball field in Lothian.

Most of the balloons were found on Sunday or Monday, May 16 and 17 but Margaret's was found on Thursday, May 21.

"Fray" Heaney Wins First David Craig Scholarship

by Valerie Siegel

Mary Frances Heaney of Olivewood Court has been awarded the first David Craig Memorial Scholarship.

A graduate of Eleanor Roosevelt High School and Frostburg State College, David Craig was an active participant in team sports, in his church, and in his community. Following his sudden death in 1984, the David Craig Memorial Scholarship was established to encourage young people to develop their own potential as individuals and as responsible members of their communities.

"Fray" Heaney has been doing just that. Her academic performance at ERHS has been excellent. In addition, Fray is a four-year cross-country varsity letterman and a three-year member of the All-County team. She served as team captain for the past two years.

Fray's community involvement includes six years on the Greenbelt swim team and two years with the Department of Recreation where she is described as, "a leader . . . an energetic, sincere, capable individual." She was also the second runner-up in the 1986 Miss Greenbelt Pageant.

Fray has also been involved in her parish community for many years. Of her current participation, it is said, "Although Mary Frances is very involved in the athletic program at ERHS, she manages to attend class regularly. This often means that her evening meals must wait until after 9 p.m."

This fall Fray will take her $1,000 scholarship and her cross-country and track excellence to James Madison University in Virginia.

Greenbelters at Ceremony

A Greenbelt delegation consisting of Jim Cooney, Eunice Coxon, Mike Esancy, Solange Hess, Margaret Hogensen, and Frank Rosskind represented the Greenbelt area when the Senior Class at St. Vincent Pallotti High School were honored in a special awards ceremony Thursday evening, June 11 by the Prince Georges County Civic Federation, Inc., and the Journal Newspapers, Inc. The students were recognized for their campaign to obtain meaningful truck safety inspection legislation, following the tragic accident in Riverdale last November when two of their classmates were killed and Lisa Beavers seriously injured when a truck with numerous safety violations had its brakes fail on a hill.

Spear Gets College Degree Then High School Diploma

There's an old saying about not putting the cart before the horse, but 17-year-old Eric Spear, who lives at the top of Ridge Road, is a modern man and ignores such ancient advice.

With parents Maryhelen and Robert and brothers Tim and Brendan looking on, Eric received his Associate of Arts degree from Prince Georges Community College on May 23. His degree is in Computer Science and Information Systems.

Then, the next Saturday, May 30, he received his high school diploma at the National Shrine as part of the graduating class of DeMatha High School.

This summer Eric has a full-time position doing computer programming at the Housing and Urban Development complex in Washington. In September, he will move to George Mason University in northern Virginia to work on a B.S. degree.

SHL Elementary School Students Receive Honors

Three sixth grade students at Springhill Lake Elementary School have been named this year's recipients of the Greenbelt American Legion Award. Daniel Holst, Carrie Chamberlain and Cheryl Restorff were honored for their academic achievement, leadership and service, according to Principal Stan Klein. Their names will be added to a plaque mounted in the hall.

Klein also announced the names of those students who had maintained a straight A (4.0) average. They are: Miguel Boardman-Pereira, Carrie Chamberlain, Conrad Chang, Jenan Dahmas, Ella Ferrer, Vernon Ghee, Fletcher Hirom, Rachel Houser, Michelle Loving, Katie Lynch, Valerie Nelson, Cheryl Restorff, Paul (Marty) Rousseau, Sarah Sheen and Tuesday Smith.

Terri Scanlon, senior at Eleanor Roosevelt High School receives scholarship from Springhill Lake's Kimberly Andreadis.

Terri Scanlon Receives $1,000 SHL Scholarship

A surprised Terri Scanlan was the second Eleanor Roosevelt graduate to receive the Springhill Lake Scholarship Award since it was established by the owners in 1985. Terri will be attending Prince Georges Community College this fall, and pursuing a career in Business.

On May 12 Kimberly Andreadis presented the $1,000 scholarship to Terri on behalf of the owners of Springhill Lake, First Winthrop Corporation, at the Eleanor Roosevelt Awards ceremony.

The First Winthrop Corporation, she said, believes that community involvement is essential to their success.

"Owning and managing large apartment communities entails a strong commitment to both our residents and to residents who live in the surrounding area," said Andreadis, adding that the Springhill Lake Scholarship Fund is just one way for us to support Prince Georges County's initiative to create educational possibilities for our young people.

Eleanor Roosevelt Praised At High School Celebration

by Mary Lou Williamson

"Inspiration for Excellence" was the theme for the final celebration of the 10th anniversary of Eleanor Roosevelt High School. The words, Principal Milton Steinbaum told the student audience on May 14, came from Adlai Stevenson in eulogy for his beloved friend Eleanor Roosevelt, First Lady of the World. The high school has celebrated this year with a series of special speakers and workshops for both students and faculty.

For the last celebration, Linda Squier, the 10th anniversary coordinator, had invited a colleague of Eleanor Roosevelt, Caroline Ware, and a member of the Roosevelt family, granddaughter Anna Eleanor Roosevelt Johnston, to talk with the students. Isaac Creek, Roosevelt art and photography teacher, presented his sculpture of the head of Eleanor Roosevelt to be bronzed and then placed in the school's lobby. The Roosevelt Jazz Band presented a medley from the Big Band era—a favorite of Eleanor Roosevelt.

Caroline Ware, 89, had served with Eleanor Roosevelt on President John F. Kennedy's Commission on the Status of Women, 1961 to 1963. "Eleanor Roosevelt," said Ware in her remarks on "A Woman and her Politics," was a vital and significant force, leading the way; she was more than the eyes and ears for her husband Franklin; she acted out her own agenda." Ware had worked with Eleanor Roosevelt from time to time since the 1930's, and was interested in many of the same issues. Ware spoke of Eleanor Roosevelt's "remarkable leadership" on that last major task, the president's commission on women, and the high tribute paid by the remaining members after Mrs. Roosevelt's death. The project was so well begun under her direction that "we were able to go right on to complete our job as if she were still there," Ware told the students.

The most important contribution of Eleanor Roosevelt, thought Ware, was her work for human rights, as expressed in the preamble to the Universal Declaration on Human Rights approved by the United Nations in 1948: "Whereas recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world. . ."

Ware ended with a personal anecdote of Eleanor Roosevelt at Hyde Park admonishing a small boy who had been attempting to climb the hind leg of a surprisingly patient horse. She stopped the boy with the words: "The horse has dignity!"

Anna Eleanor Roosevelt Johnston, namesake and middle of 23 grandchildren, spoke of the "Legacy of a Grandmother." Anne, who shares a strong facial resemblance with her grandmother in addition to the name, told the students it was hard, at age 13, to be told "you look like your grandmother, but you have better teeth." The students responded with laughter when she wondered how they could successfully fit "Eleanor Roosevelt" into a basketball cheer. And she wondered what the students know of the person Eleanor Roosevelt.

"As I grew older," she said, "I learned to appreciate the beauty of her smile and the warmth of her eyes . . . and that beauty was more than superficial."

Johnston related her grandmother's personal story — the life of a sad though economically privileged girl; her search for love and self image; her achievements, especially at the United Nations; opportunities for her to do her best. "She was not a saint, not perfection," Johnston told the students, "she made personal and professional mistakes, mistakes with her children." What was remarkable, said Johnston, was her willingness to admit them and go on.

In the rush of activities with always a crowd around her grandmother, Johnston marvelled at "her special attentiveness to me, the way she would bend her head to listen to me." Johnston talked of four o'clock tea time and Just So Stories her grandmother would read, the large supper table full of friends and neighbors and guests with her grandmother presiding, always busy. She talked of her grandmother getting up early, drinking hot water and lemon juice and not giving up her cold showers until age 75; of walking the dogs, and vitality, and Christmas and birthdays remembered. "Thoughtfulness was her key, said Johnston. She was always available to us."

"We all need heroes," Johnston told the students. Her grandmother could lend "courage and goodness, hope, warmth and openness, self-less service; an example not too high for us to follow." Eleanor Roosevelt, said her granddaughter, took stock of herself and then went out to do her best to achieve her dream. "Her legacy to me is the same as to you." She challenged the students "to work for a world of greater fairness; a more peaceful and civilized world."

More Funds Are Available To Magnet School Program

Congressman Steny Hoyer announced today that the federal Department of Education has awarded a full grant to the Prince Georges County Board of Education for development of the magnet school program. The grant will total $4 million.

This is the second year that the school system has applied for a grant under the $75 million federal program. The first year the grant application was rejected. Following that action, Congressman Hoyer, a member of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, which funds the program, authored an amendment enabling Prince Georges County to make another grant application.

In announcing the grant approval, Hoyer said, "Everyone in Prince Georges County is proud of the great success of the magnet school program. This grant provides us with national recognition of that success. More importantly, it will provide hundreds more young people in our County with the benefits of the magnet program."

Prince Georges County has one of the 20 largest school systems in the United States. It includes 171 schools, with one-third of those schools affected by the Board's desegregation efforts. The magnet program is conducted in 41 schools, and includes 11 different programs.

Miscellaneous Account
Employee retirement benefits are again a substantial item—$560,000 plus an additional $40,000 from reserves for catching up on the city's accrued liability. Beginning this year, this amount will be shown along with the other costs for employees in various accounts throughout the budget to better reflect the actual cos of each city employee. For the first time in several years, the budget shows no significant increase for liability insurance. Hospitalization is up by 15 percent; an employee committee is looking into alternatives for next year.

North End Center's budget for minimal maintenance and repair is $10,000; the Greenbelt Museum, $16,900; and debt service, $181,300.

The reserve for capital improvements ($306,700) derived from seven cents of the tax rate will be used for street and sidewalk replacement and construction, renovation of the Roosevelt Mall and some smaller projects. (See box.). Community Development Block Grant ($362,000) will pay for other capital improvements:: street renovation and resurfacing in the Greenbelt Homes and Springhill Lake areas.

Again this year five cents of the tax rate will be set aside for building projects, bringing the total in the fund after two years to $233,100. The fund, begun in the 1984 budget, was committed to the North End School for three years. That fund now equals $243,500. Both funds will be transferred into the Capital Improvements Fund II (the 1985 bond issue) for disbursement to appropriate projects.

Other Funds

The Capital Improvement Fund I (the 1969 $950,000 bond issue) shows a balance from last year of $51,460, a grant of State Open Space funds of $144,900 and interest of $4,100. Expenditures projected for this coming fiscal year are: acquisition of additional land for Schrom Hills Park, Shimmel property (3.8 a.), $110,000, and Steiner property (1.2 a.), $60,000.

The (new) Capital Improvement Fund II (the 1985 $6 million bond issue) anticipates the sale of bonds and bond anticipation notes of $2,800,000. Expenditures may include: Bond sale $28,000; police station, $750,000; public works addition, $140,000; youth center addition, $30,000; remodel municipal building, $50,000; North End School, $612,500 (or less); swimming pool, $750,000; renovate outdoor pool, $358,000; acquisition of parkland, $457,800; parkland development, $50,000. These figures will be readjusted as council determines specific priorities for the fiscal year.

Why do dentists need a medical history?

Your family dentist is a highly specialized member of the health professions team and is dedicated to your good health and welfare. In order to provide proper treatment, he must be aware of any medical condition that can alter his proposed treatment plan or be aggravated by the treatment. For example, certain medications used in the dental office can affect heart rate and blood pressure. With proper knowledge of the condition, alternative drugs can be used.

When your dentist asks you to complete a medical questionnaire, be as truthful and complete as possible. Any withheld information may have a detrimental effect on your dental treatment or general health.
